

Before shaking hands with her esteemed opponent in la Moncloa, Prime Minister of Spain Pedro Sánchez, Iranian Woman Grandmaster Sara Khadem had made the headlines worldwide for not wearing a headscarf during a competition. She is now exiled in Spain.

Hello once again,

In this week's newsletter:

1. Edition 107 of Boletín (grammar search and tier 2/3 vocabulary).
-

Boletín edition 107

The 8th March is International Womens' Day and this has inspired the text selection this week in edition 107 of Boletín. Text one is about the Woman Grandmaster Sara Khadem, text two is about the role of women during the dictatorship (adapted from a larger text on how the role of Women in Spain has changed in the last 50 years) and text three is a little primer on el Día Internacional de la Mujer.

Boletín
history · culture · news

International Master and Woman Grandmaster Sara Khadem.

Tier 2/3 vocabulary

Ajedrecista - chess player

El velo - veil, covering or headscarf

Acusar - to accuse

Asesinar - to kill

Dar la vuelta al mundo - to go or travel around the World

Dar la bienvenida - to welcome

Llevar a cabo - to do, perform or carry out

Tutela - guardianship

Renacer - to revive, come back

Un logro - an achievement

Remontarse - to go back to (time)

Exigir - to demand

En la actualidad - at present, currently

Grammar search

- Qualifiers
 - Preterite tense
 - Imperfect tense
 - Present tense
 - The gerund (an -ing verb)
 - Relative pronoun que
 - The passive voice
 - The passive voice avoided with an se structure
 - Direct Object Pronouns
-